

FACTS

WHAT DOES MONEY CLOUDS DO
WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- Account balances and payment history
- Credit history and credit score
- Browser and mobile device information

When you are no longer our customer, we continue to share your information as described in this notice.

How?

All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons Money Clouds chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does Money Clouds Share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes — such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes — to offer our products and services to you	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial companies	Yes	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your transactions and experiences	No	No
For our affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness	No	No
For non-affiliates to market to you	No	No

Questions?

Email or go to our website
support@moneyclouds.com www.moneyclouds.com

Who we are

Who is providing this notice?

Quemulus, Inc., a Delaware Corporation

What we do

How does Money Clouds protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does Money Clouds collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- Open an account or make deposits or withdraws from your account
- Create and use Clouds or Connections within your account
- Use your debit card
- Access your account information via our online or mobile channels

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes-information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for non-affiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

Definitions

Affiliates

Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- N/A

Non-affiliates

Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Non-affiliates we share with can include technology partners, data processors or other service providers, advertisers, co-branded partners, and financial services companies and other financial institutions (e.g., banks).

Joint marketing

A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- Our joint marketing partners include companies such as financial services companies and other financial institutions (e.g., banks).